Client Spotlight: Kadence International

Kadence, a global quantitative and qualitative research agency, prides itself on being able to provide actionable insights regardless of the country. After having to re-field studies because of poor translation quality, Kadence reached out to Multilingual Connections.

Together, they worked to improve the translation process from start to finish. Multilingual Connections creates carefully-worded questionnaires in multiple target languages, going great lengths to maintain the meaning and nuance of the source English text—critical for any firm conducting market research worldwide.

"Multilingual Connections was a great alternative because of their transparency with their process as well as their pricing. The customer service received was outstanding!"
